

Love Again

John Park

Everybody needs somebody
To help them along the way
Oh, cause everyone forgets sometimes
How to put on a smile again
Give the broken heart another chance
Let somebody hold your hand
Baby, this Christmas
Give love a try again

How do you mend a heart
That's been broken a thousand ways
How many days do we have
To fight for a better day
Only one call away
I got a feeling that you feel the same
Maybe I can be the one to change your frown
(Baby, cause)

Everybody needs somebody
To help them along the way
Oh, cause everyone forgets sometimes
How to put on a smile again
Give the broken heart another chance
Let somebody hold your hand
Baby, this Christmas
Give love a try again

These are the days that
We've been dreaming of all along
The whole city wrapped in snow
And I feel like a child again
Like the winter rain, when suddenly
Everything is all out of place
Someone's gonna turn your whole world upside down
(Baby, cause)

Everybody needs somebody
To help them along the way
Oh, cause everyone forgets sometimes
How to put on a smile again
Give the broken heart another chance
Let somebody hold your hand
Baby, this Christmas

When you're down too deep
Into the bottom and you need a friend
(Oh, you'll be alright)
Remember the love we shared
And give it away again

Baby, 'cause everybody needs somebody
Oh, and doesn't everybody want somebody
To love and be loved again
Give the broken heart another chance

Baby, this Christmas

Ooh, ooh-ooh
Love again
