

Family Tree

John Parr

You walk in the room and the walls cave in Dazed and confused, then the pain kicks in
All you give is all you get
No good looking for some sympathy
No delusions, no regrets
You can pick your friends
Can't choose your enemies

We all need some good relations
That's they way that it's meant to be
Lead us not into temptation
Gotta keep it in the family
Falling from my family tree
'Cause that's the way it's meant to be
All we need is communication
Gotta keep it in the family
Falling from my family tree

Birth of the blues, is the day it begins

Kick off your shoes, as the tide comes in
We all get the chance to choose
All you need is a little strategy
No good screamin' at the moon
You can't lay the blame, lay the blame
On your destiny

We all need some good relations
That's they way that it's meant to be
Lead us not into temptation
Gotta keep it in the family
Falling from my family tree

All we need is communication
That's the way, that's the way
Lead us not into temptation
Gotta keep it in the family
Falling from my family tree
