

We All Make Mistakes

John Parr

If you ever change your mind
Don't look back, give it another try
Back across the great divide
One small step, would keep the dream alive
But don't write me a letter
Don't give me a call
Don't tell me we've got no future left at all

If you ever change your mind
Don't hold back, don't swim against the tide
Down these rivers we have cried
No more tears, they are not a part of you and I

So don't write me a letter
Don't promise you'll call
Don't say that we'll never make it after all

If you ever change your mind
You might find

We all make mistakes sometime
You and I, we never got the breaks
I always felt we had the strength to see it through
All those values that we held on to Darlin' I still believe
I believe in you

If you ever change your mind
Don't hold back
Trust in the one you left behind
Give that school another try
You and I, we could get it right this time

So just drop me a letter
Just walk through that door
Just show you were only human after all

Did you ever change your mind
You might find
We all make mistakes sometimes
