

Welcome Home

John Schneider

I know that you can never
Fall in love with me forever
And it's hard to keep on losin'
Such a good thing
When he can't see things your way
You come runnin' back through my doorway
And you bring me lovin'
Fit for a king
It gives me the blues
Not knowin' if I should choose
Between lovin' you
And leavin' you alone
My heart's just here for using
I keep choosin' wrong and losin'
But you're an old familiar heartache
Welcome home
It sure is good to see you
Welcome home
You know me well
You know that I've been right here all along
I wish that I could keep you out
But you know I'm not that strong
And I'm in for another heartbreak
When you're gone
But it sure is good to see you
Welcome home
I just know some empty mornin'

You'll be gone without a warnin'
Just when I'm almost sure
That it's the real thing
And you'll take away my sunshine
But there'll always be a next time
I just hate to face the long wait
In between
Just like it's always been
This love that I can't win
Will be back home with me
Stringin' me along
My heart's just here for usin'
I keep choosin' wrong and losin'
But you're an old familiar heartache
Welcome home
It sure is good to see you
Welcome home
You know me well
You know that I've been right here all along
I wish that I could keep you out
But you know I'm not that strong
And I'm in for another heartbreak
When you're gone
But it sure is good to see you
Welcome home
