

Leave It All Behind

John Splithoff

Starting to feel like I'm losing myself
To these lonely days and this empty space in my heart
Starting to feel like I'm losing my grip
On the steering wheel flying through the dark
Starting to seem like I'm trying too hard
To leave behind this way I feel for you
But now that it seems like we're back where we were I've got you here and nothing left to think through
Well, it's been so long since I put out this fire, this fire
With one small spark, you light this desire, again

I know it's been some time
Since I've been by your side
But baby in this moment
Let's leave the past behind
You burned me once before
But I'm burning still tonight
So baby right this second
Let's leave it all behind

Telling myself that I won't feel a thing
So all I feel is the touch of your skin
You look at me like you used to, lately
So I close you round and bring you right back in
No more words and no more goodbyes, this time
In this blue cold room, we compromise, again

I know it's been some time
Since I've been by your side
But baby right this second
Let's leave the past behind
You burned me once before
But I'm burning still tonight
So baby right this second
Let's leave it all behind

I know it's been some time
Since I've been by your side
But baby in this moment
Let's leave the past behind
You burned me once before
But I'm burning still tonight
So baby right this second
Let's leave it all behind

Leave it all
Leave it all
Leave it all behind
...