

The Love Went Wrong

John Splithoff

It's getting late and now I'm sitting here
Thinking 'bout the past year
Knowing I had someone to rely on
Down the line I lost track of time
Writing every other rhyme
Tryna make these words never sound wrong

'Cause you kept deceiving
And I kept believing, yeah
So let's make this easy
And let tonight be the night we forget

Can we dream forever?
Can I even remember how I felt to be all alone with you each night?

'Cause the love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

The love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

Oh, the night bears down and you're still here
Well temptation it takes me and I pull you near, but I'm asking myself

Can we dream forever?
Can I even remember how I felt to be all alone with you each night?

'Cause the love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

The love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

'Cause the love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

The love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older

The love went wrong and the days they got colder
As for me, I got big, I got bolder
Listen to me, read my lips, I'll talk slower
You're one day late and I'm another day older
