

Thought Of You

John Splithoff

I woke up to the thought of you
Just like I always do
What a perfect way to start my day
I put
Kona in the cup you bought
Last fall on the boardwalk
Baby even when the clouds are grey

Yeah, I got somebody whose
Smile paints my sky blue

You're every single place I go
In every little thing I do
Oh, baby you just gotta know
That I've been
So caught up in the thought of you
So caught up in the thought of you

There was a girl on the avenue
A little debutante, high heel shoes
In front of me, a step or two
I saw her and I thought of you

There's only one girl whose
Smile paints my sky blue

You're every single place I go
In every little thing I do
Oh, baby you just gotta know
That I've been
So caught up in the thought of you
So caught up in the thought of you

Just the thought of you
Keeps you close to me
No matter where you are
You're right where you're supposed to be

There's only one girl whose
Smile paints my sky blue

You're every single place I go
In every little thing I do
Baby you just got to know
That I've been
So caught up in the thought of you
So caught up in the thought of you

Mmh, how the thought of you
Yeah keeps you close to me
No matter where you are
You're right where you're supposed to be, yeah

You're every single place I go
In every little thing I do
Baby you just got to know
That I've been

So caught up in the thought of you
So caught up in the thought of you
