

Value

John Splithoff

Baby I've been thinking too much
Yeah thinking about myself and someone else
Baby I've been so caught up
Like I don't know what's good for my health

So wrap your arms around my love
Like you're never ever gonna see me again, oh baby
No I'm not looking for something that means nothing, no
Cause you're making me a better man, oh no

I've had thieves break in
And they ended up taking
Nothing of value
Nothing of value
Cause you made a house into a home
If I was living here alone
It'd be nothing without you
Nothing without you

Oh, had a couple take twos
Bad habits that I cut loose
A reckless recluse, paying my dues
With every single lover that I knew before you

How do I keep my love locked out
When everyone else takes a part of me
You bring me all back together
Baby I want you here right now
You're the moment of truth I've been waiting on You're kicking the door down

Cause I've had thieves break in
And they ended up taking
Nothing of value
Nothing of value
Cause you made a house into a home
If I was living here alone
It'd be nothing without you
Nothing without you
