

Way Back

John Splithoff

I think I need a way back
To the way I felt before
I think I need a way back to you

I think I need a way back
To the way it was before
By your side, think I need a way back to you

There's something wrong
I've been waiting way too long since the moment
We came undone under gray skies

The air left my lungs
And I tried to move along living lonely
You're so far gone, didn't take time

Oh, but the distance brings me back again
Believing things were better when
All alone in my head
The memories play back, and now

I think I need a way back
To the way I felt before
I think I need a way back to you

I think I need a way back
To the way it was before
By your side, think I need a way back to you

Oh, but the distance brings me back again
Believing things were better when
All alone in my head
The memories play back, and now

I think I need a way back
To the way I felt before
I think I need a way back to you

I think I need a way back
To the way it was before
By your side, think I need a way back to you

(I think I need a way back
To the way it was before
By your side, think I need a way back to you)
