

Rainbows

John Travolta

Now in the seas you're sailing
Are storm-tossed
And it appears you that you are lost
Just remember you can't have rainbows without the rain

And suns gonna shine eventually
Gonna paint the sky so beautifully
All over the world you will find it's the same
You can't have rainbows without the rain
Without the rain

When someone you love has got you two feeling low
Oh there is something I want you to know
Just remember that you can't have rainbows without the rain

And suns gonna shine eventually
Gonna paint the sky so beautifully
All over the world you will find it's the same
You can't have rainbows without the rain
Without the rain

Help you, it'll help you to ease away the pain
You can't have rainbows without the rain
Without the rain

When you're not sure where you're going
And you feel like turning back
Here's something you can rely on
It's a natural fact
That you can't have rainbows
No you can't have rainbows without the rain

And suns gonna shine eventually
Gonna paint the sky so beautifully
All over the world you will find it's the same
You can't have rainbows without the rain
Without the rain

Perhaps this is all just a silly refrain
But you can't have rainbows without the rain
Without the rain
