

Lady Ice

John West

I remember all of the warmth
You once shared with me
Now your heart has grown cold and empty

Lady Ice you're only a memory
Lady Ice you're not what you seem to be, oh no

You drew me in and left me standin' there
But who would have known what lied behind your frozen stare
You made me believe it was meant to be
You captured me
But I broke away and I know someday
You'll cry for me

Lady Ice you're only a memory
Lady Ice you're not what you seem to be, oh no

My Lady Ice, so lookout

Lady Ice you're only a memory
Lady Ice you're not what you seem to be, oh no
