

A Different Gun

Johnny Marr

Take a walk to the road
Feel the sidewalk glow
At the dead of the day
On the airy street
We're lying all alone
Now someone at risen dawn
And they don't even know

There was something right
There was something

Everyday is a different sun
Blown away by a different gun
Now we're holding onto everyone
To be warned by the heat
And we're taking every day that comes
Everyday from a different gun
Stay and come out tonight
Stay and come out tonight

Our sparks dream and fall
Fireworks explode
Do we fall on the beach?
Do we fall all alone?

There was something right
There was something

Everyday is a different sun
Blown away by a different gun
Now we're holding onto everyone
To be warned by the heat
And we're taking every day that comes
Everyday from a different gun
Stay and come out tonight
Stay and come out tonight

Now there's still a chance
That we don't even know
We're suns in some paradise

Everyday is a different sun
Blows away in a different gun
And we're holding onto everyone
To be warned by the heat
And we're taking every day that comes
Everyday from a different gun
Stay and come out tonight
Stay and come out tonight
