

Ready or Not

Johnny Mathis

So you're afraid of falling
For time and time again love's been unkind
That's why when love comes calling
You build yourself a wall so you can hide
But, darling, I see through you
Just one look in your eyes and I knew
That it was time
You let somebody touch you inside

So ready or not, give me your love
Open your heart and let me in
Ready or not, give me your love
'Cause ready or not, I'm coming in

Although your dreams were shattered
Your broken heart still wants to find out why
But now is all that matters
Forget the past, just think of you and I
I need a chance to show you
You can make all your love dreams come true
But you won't know
Until you let your love feelings come through

So ready or not, give me your love
Open your heart and let me in
Ready or not, give me your love
'Cause ready or not, I'm coming in

Ready or not, give me your love
Open your heart and let me in
Ready or not, give me your love...
