

She Calls Me Home

Johnny Reid

Here I am on this road
Thousand miles from her
There's an echo in my soul
Like waves against her shores
She's the place that I go
When I find myself alone
With her fields of purple heather
And her fences made of stone
She calls me home

Something that I always felt inside
A dream I had to chase
And a mountain I just had to climb
To see what's on the other side
It doesn't really matter how lost I get
Or how far I roam
She calls me home

She's the constant strength in my restless heart
She's the reason why
I got this far in the first place
Her voice rings clear in the back of my mind
When I can't go on
She calls me home

She calls me home

There's only one place where my roots run deep
There's only one place where I can swing
In my family tree
I know what it means to me
It doesn't matter how lost I get
Or how far I roam
She calls me home..
