

Who You Gonna Love?

Johnny Rivers

What's the matter baby
You got worry on your face
I know you're trying to hide
What you can't erase
All the lust of the flesh
Are sure to pull you down
You know the party's over
When you're lying on the ground

Who you gonna love, who you gonna love
Have you heard His voice
Can you hear His call
Who you gonna love, who you gonna love
Before it's too late, before you take the fall
Everywhere you look it's a sad situation
Looks like we're headed for the final confrontation, now

All the people who know magic
They'll play tricks before your eyes
Babe they just confuse you
They'll keep filling you with lies
The truth goes round in circles
They'll keep you in a haze
How can they say it's alright
When we're in the final days, tell me

Who you gonna love, who you gonna love
Have you heard His voice
Can you hear His call
Who you gonna love, who you gonna love
Before it's too late, before you take the fall
Everywhere you look it's a sad situation
Looks like we're headed for the final confrontation, now
