

Hard to Say Goodbye

Johnny Stimson

You make it hard to say goodbye
I die a little every time
I find it impossible to leave you with that look in your eyes
Oh, you make it hard to say goodbye

Little tiny Aphrodite I don't wanna wake you up
When you smile in your sleep I wonder what you're dreaming of
You got that temporary cherry blossom potion on your lips
I wanna swallow up your ocean but I only got a sip
And there's an Uber on the way because my flight is in an hour
I still gotta pack a bag and brush my teeth and take a shower
So I take a mental picture cause I know I'm gonna need it
The hardest part of loving you is leaving

I don't want to
But I have to
I already feel so lonely
I don't want to
But I have to
I gotta let you go

You make it hard to say goodbye
I die a little every time
I find it impossible to leave you with that look in your eyes
Oh, you make it hard to say goodbye

Supermodel Dalai Lama you're the lover from above
You're that lightning in a bottle I can't ever get enough
It's like my hand is on the throttle but my heart is on the clutch
Wishing I could be two places at once
So if I leave my heart
Beside the bed
Would you promise me
You won't forget me
Don't forget me
Don't forget

I don't want to
But I have to
I already feel so lonely
I don't want to
But I have to
I gotta let you go

You make it hard to say goodbye
I die a little every time
I find it impossible to leave you with that look in your eyes
Oh, you make it hard
You make it hard
You make it hard to say goodbye
