

Eternally

Johnny Winter

Well how many tears have I cried since you left me behind?
And how many years have I tried to make you mine?
I would cry a million tears, I would try a million years
If that would bring you closer to me
I'd wait eternally
I'd wait eternally

Well how many guys have you dated while I sat and cried?
Well how many hours have I waited even though you lied?
You could date a million guys, you could tell a million lies
If that would bring you closer to me
I'd wait eternally
I'd wait eternally

So I guess I'll keep waiting for you patiently
Then maybe you'll see how true I am and give your love to me

Baby baby baby, how many dimes have I spent to call you on the phone?
And how many times have they told me you weren't home?
I would spend a million dimes, I would call a million times
If that would bring you closer to me
I'd wait eternally
I'd wait eternally

So I guess I'll keep waiting for you patiently
Then maybe you'll see how true I am and give your love to me

Baby baby baby, how many dimes have I spent to call you on the phone?
And how many times have they told me you weren't home?
I would spend a million dimes, I would call a million times
If that would bring you closer to me
I'd wait eternally
I'd wait eternally baby

For you to give your love to me
Baby baby baby
I want you to give your love to me
