

Alchemy

JOHNNYSWIM

If all the stars were shaken up and poured back in the sky
I still think they'd align for us
If all of history and time were rearranged overnight
The books would all still write of us

Don't get me wrong
This ain't a fairy tale, wouldn't want it to be
We just belong
It's chemical

Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too
We're alchemy

Hmm-mm-mm
The years have passed, and little's gone
The way we asked, the way we want
Enough to break a heart or two
And call it romance if you dare
But try breathin' somethin' else than air
Any choice apart from you

And don't get me wrong
This ain't a fairy tale, I wouldn't want it to be
We just belong
It's chemical

Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too
Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too, ooh
We're alchemy

Spin the tables, roll the dice
We have each other time
Not just in this life
But in thousands, thousands, thousands, thousands (Hey)
I've surrendered to the pull
The knot that keeps me tied to you
We've got love enough for this life
And for thousands, thousands, thousands

Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too
Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too
Of course I would find you
Of course you would find me too
We're alchemy
Mm-mm
