

Heavens (Then We Begin)

Johnossi

If I was born in a wasteland
Long before I could see the damage done
Would I still believe the good will come?

The skin, the blood
Shoot the witness, kill the judge
Put it on display again
When the world's on sale
We burn the land
The foreign land

Everybody's waiting for the great unknown
Speed on through the heavens or be on your own
Waste it all for nothing or live my life for something
When the tide is right, then we begin, then we begin

Call me home, I can be your baby born
To look after every need
Go and hide your fear, I'll count to ten

The skin, the blood
Shoot the witness, kill the judge
Put it on display again
Go and hide your fear, I'll count to ten
Then we begin

Everybody's waiting for the great unknown

Speed on through the heavens or be on your own
Waste it all for nothing or live my life for something
When the tide is right, then we begin

I don't wanna waste it all for nothing
Wanna live my life for something
When the time is right then we begin
Then we begin

If I was born in a wasteland
Long before I could see the damage done
Would I still believe the good will come?

Everybody's waiting for the great unknown
Speed on through the heavens or be on your own
Waste it all for nothing or live my life for something
When the tide is right, then we begin

I don't wanna waste it all for nothing
Wanna live my life for something
When the time is right then we begin
Then we begin
Then we begin, oh!
Then we begin
Then we begin
Then we begin
