

Hot Thoughts

Johnossi

White germs swimming around
Pushed on by the weight of the sound
Of the ignorant voice in the back of my mind
Better kill the ones causing this state of denial

You said just leave it alone
Never ever put yourself on a throne
Let the ignorant bliss do the work on its own
Let it shine through your head as you dream on, dream on

I turned blue, envying you
All is gray in this binocular view
I can't eat, I can't sleep when I'm feeding the ghost
Clinging onto my chest like a cancerous host

Hot thoughts spinning around
Will I ever get my feet on the ground?
How thoughts dragging me down
Underwater, where I can't make a sound
It goes around and around
Goes around and around and around

Left out, but leave me alone

I ever never said I wanted to go
Let the ignorant bliss do the work on its own
Let it shine through my head as I dream on, dream on

I turned blue, envying you
All is gray in this binocular view
I can't eat, I can't sleep when I'm feeding the ghost
Clinging onto my chest like a cancerous host

Hot thoughts spinning around
Will I ever get my feet on the ground?
Hot thoughts dragging me down
Underwater, where I can't make a sound
It goes around and around
Goes around and around and around

Hot thoughts spinning around
Will I ever get my feet on the ground?
Hot thoughts dragging me down
Underwater, where I can't make a sound
It goes around and around
Goes around and around and around
