I Thought It Was The Moon

Jolie Holland

I thought it was the moon, but it was not
It was a street light shining out to light your way
Nothing in this world I wouldn't steal for you
White birds flying across the patinaed sky
The bright bronze sky and the dark green sea
Colored cloud, I'm a fearless thief

I thought it was the moon, but it was not
It was a street light shining out to light your way
Nothing in this world I wouldn't steal for you
White birds flying across the patinaed sky
The bright bronze sky and the dark green sea
Colored cloud, I'm a fearless thief
