

Free (Some Would Say)

Jon Anderson

Some would say that the point of where you start is the beginning

Some would say it's the end of the space

Some would say there's no reason at all to be wishing

When all along you must face what you must face

I believe it is said that you must be eternal

And to prove it you just let yourself go

And love it when you can

Love it when you can, love it when you can

It's a fact like they say

When the push it comes to shoving

You'll never ever go the wrong way to go

You are where you are supposed to be

Whether you like it or not you're living

And your excuse is you want to be free

Free to learn and to love

Free to learn and to love

Free to learn and to love

Some would say that the point of where you start is the beginning

Some would say it's the end of the space

Some would say there's no reason at all to be wishing

When all along you must face what you must face

I believe it is said that you must be eternal

And to prove it you just let yourself go

And love it when you can

Love it when you can, love it when you can