

Realization Part Two

Jon Anderson

How we turn around and search for time and forfeit all we need
And the moment that we satisfy the boredom that we see
We were shining for the crystal dream in the morning shadow light
And they never really looked so far and they never looked so far behind you

Caught within the afternoon of realization
Caught within the afternoon of realization

Something in your heart will always reach
Forest of the trees we simply too forget
But they did not really answer to the call
When they came back, when they came back home

Say saila, saila
Say saila, saila
Say saila, saila
Say saila, saila

Catching out the sound, the spirit moving out, we always try
And if everybody else would ever look before they try

Caught within the afternoon of realization
Caught within the afternoon of realization

Realizing what you put in, you get out of it
What you put in, you get out of it
Fast as lightning they would answer you
Never let it go
Never let it go

Need a reason
What you get out of it
Need a reason
What you get out of it
Realization
What you get out of it
Realization

Oh, let this be heaven
Oh, let this be life
Oh, let this be heaven
Oh, let this be life
Oh, let this be heaven
Oh, let this be life