

Back To Love

Jon Bryant

I've been down to the coastline
As the waves rose up
You met me there, brushed the salt from your hair
On a thousand cuts

Now I'm breaking down and wondering why you feel so far
It's the winding road that always shows us who we are

It think it's time we go back to love, back to love
It think it's time we go back to love, back to love
When we hit the bottom and there's nowhere left to run
But there's always time to go back to love, back to love

Champagne room, pulls me back to your room
We don't have to speak
And settle in, well I don't care where you've been
As long as you're with me

Now you're looking back and wondering how you got this far
When the sun is gone, the night will show us who we are

It think it's time we go back to love, back to love
It think it's time we go back to love, back to love
When we hit the bottom and there's nowhere left to run
There's always time to go back to love, back to love

It think it's time to go back to love, back to love
It think it's time we go back to love, back to love
When we hit the bottom and there's nowhere left to run
There's always time to go back to love, back to love

I wanna take you home, back to love, back to love
I wanna take you home, back to love, back to love

I think it's time we go back to love, back to love
