

As. Simple. As. Us.

Jon Foreman

The sun doesn't go out when we spin 'round
The light all depends which direction you face
And those stars are always out
It's just the clouds that come get in our way

Night and day are different names
For the same rotation in space
The sun doesn't go down when we spin 'round
The night and the day embrace

It's as simple as us
It's as simple as both of us
It's as simple as catching the moment
When the moment don't fit in your plans
It's as simple as us
It's as simple as both of us
It's as simple as sandcastle dreams that the ocean turns back i nto sand
It's as simple as us

Oh, it's as simple as us

Black holes and scars, light years apart
The spark in your eye, gravitational pull Impossible odds that both you and I
Would be present here now in body and soul

Faith and doubt are different names
For these mysteries that I can't control
The sun doesn't go down when we spin 'round
But the light is not mine to hold

It's as simple as us
It's as simple as both of us
It's as simple as catching the moment
When the moment don't fit in your plans
It's as simple as us
It's as simple as both of us
It's as simple as sandcastle dreams that the ocean turns back i nto sand
It's as simple as us

Oh, it's as simple as us
It's as simple as us
Oh, it's as simple as us
