

Making You Up

Jon McLaughlin

I think I'm in a simulation 'cause lately my life
Is suspiciously amazing and you're the reason why It's the only explanation I believe explains what my eyes have seen

It's like a magic trick
You're pulling all my fantasies from up your sleeve
It's like a movie script
Like Woody Allen's writing all our dialogue
Yea you seem too good to be true how could this be my luck?
It's like I'm making you up

People think that I'm a liar a boy who's crying wolf too much
Or the girl who's gorgeous boyfriend you've never met cause he lives in Canada
All the people sighting UFO's they understand how it goes

It's like a magic trick
You're pulling all my fantasies from up your sleeve
It's like a movie script
Like Woody Allen's writing all our dialogue
Yea you seem too good to be true how could this be my luck?
It's like I'm making you up

It's like a magic trick
You're pulling all my fantasies from up your sleeve
It's like a movie script
Like Woody Allen's writing all our dialogue
Yea you seem too good to be true
Like get rich schemes or thoughts of you
A part of me still can't believe how could this be my luck?
It's like I'm making you up
