

You Do Crazy Things

Jon McLaughlin

I've been driving all night
And drinking bad truck stop coffee
Both of my eyes
Are burning and bloodshot and glossy
All these miles I'm traveling just to have you next to me
Love makes you do crazy things

You'll get a tattoo
You won't even feel the sting
You'll pack up and move
To some place you've never seen
You'll tell the truth on all the secrets you thought you'd always have to keep
Love makes you do crazy things

You'll start to see it all around
Your heart will freely give it out
Oh it's crazy how

You'll acquiesce when deep down you disagree
Yea you'll say yes and stuff all your no's down deep
Until years later when your true nature brings you to your knees
Love makes you do crazy things

You'll start to see it all around
Your heart will freely give it out
Oh it heals and it hurts
It's the best and the worst and it saves me daily

It's gonna be hard there'll be days you bash her hopes in You'll give her your heart and some nights she'll break it wide open
But after all this sweet forgiveness comes so naturally
Love makes you do crazy things
Love makes you do crazy things
