Raincheck

Jon Pardi

Walked through them double doors
Ordered up a double Crown
Saw an angel looking at me
So I sat down
Talked for a couple songs
Heartbreaks and hometowns
Slid a little closer
Thinkin' I would come around

Had to tell her, baby
It ain't you
I just got something I gotta do

Tonight I just wanna whiskey
And sit here alone
Flip through the pictures of the memories on my phone
And jukebox some Whitley
Till the lights come on
You look so right, but girl, it feels so wrong
I thought I could show up, get drunk, and get this heartbreak gone
But tonight, I need a raincheck on moving on

She said, "Boy, that's okay
I've seen that look before
Ain't ever easy when you
Watch 'em walk out the door"
So I bought her a round
Said, "Have a good night"
Maybe I'll be good next time

Tonight I just wanna whiskey
And sit here alone
Flip through the pictures of the memories on my phone
And jukebox some Whitley
Till the lights come on
You look so right, but girl, it feels so wrong
I thought I could show up, get drunk, and get this heartbreak gone
But tonight, I need a raincheck on moving on

Yeah, tonight I need a raincheck on moving on Letting go
Getting close
Maybe tomorrow
I don't know

But tonight, I just wanna whiskey
And sit here alone
Flip through the pictures of the memories on my phone
And jukebox some Whitley
Till the lights come on
You look so right, but girl, it feels so wrong
But tonight, I need a raincheck on moving on

Yeah, tonight I need a raincheck on moving on
