

Drink for Two

Jon Wolfe

Turns out I'm not better off
I've had time to see how much I lost
Every day I watch the sun roll by
And I'm just trying to find a brighter side

Now I see the only good thing about losing you
Baby I can sit alone
And drink for two
If they ever ask I'll have a good excuse
I just know enough to know
You're not coming back
So I'm pouring twice as much in this empty glass
Guess I'll make the best of the cold hard truth
And I'll just drink for two now

Well maybe you were right
Cause I can't get you off my mind
It's like holding on to a midnight train
Every time someone brings up your name

Now I see the only good thing about losing you
Baby I can sit alone
And drink for two
And If they ever ask I'll have a good excuse
I just know enough to know
You're not coming back
So I'm pouring twice as much in this empty glass
Guess I'll make the best of the cold hard truth
And I'll just drink for two now
I'll just drink for two now

Now I see the only good thing about losing you
Baby I can sit alone
And drink for two
And If they ever ask I'll have a good excuse
I just know enough to know
You're not coming back
You're not coming back
I just know enough to know
You're not coming back
I'll just drink for two now
I'll just drink for two now
