Jonas Brothers

You still have a piece of my heart
Had it from the day that we started
And even now, still wanna call you up
Have to remind myself I need to stop

I should get used to it now
But I still find your things in my house
I go to throw them out but then I don't Try to forget you but I fear I won't
I know I won't

I've been in my bed spending every second
Wishing you were lying on my chest, say I'm moving on
But I keep going backwards
See, I keep going backwards
Yeah
Look what you did to me, now I'm barely sleeping
I'm replaying every word I said, find out what went wrong
But I keep going backwards
See, I keep going backwards
Yeah, yeah, yeah

I don't wanna play right now, I'm just getting faded
Without you being around, all my love is wasted
I just need to get you back in my life
But I know I'm staying lonely tonight

I've been in my bed spending every second
Wishing you were lying on my chest, say I'm moving on
But I keep going backwards
See, I keep going backwards
Yeah
Look what you did to me, now I'm barely sleeping
I'm replaying every word I said, find out what went wrong
But I keep going backwards
See, I keep going backwards
Yeah, yeah, yeah

I keep going backwards
Yeah, I keep going backwards
Yeah, yeah
