

You Make Me Whole

Jonathan Butler

Oh yeah
Oh oh

You've opened the door deep inside me
I will never be the same
From the moment that you came into my life
My world it's unbelievable
And all because of you
And all the things you've done for me

I must confess
You taught me how to Live my life and gave me hope
Showed me how to give
When all I had but wouldn't be received

Don't know how I could face
Face another day without you in my life
It's not worth living without you by my side
Don't know how I could stand
On broken dreams on a promise made of sand
There's none like you
In you I can depend
You make me whole
Yeah yeah

There will be highs and many lows
I know I can face it all
Cause I know I'm not alone

And all because you taught me
How to live my life
You gave me hope
You showed me how to give when all I had
I thought wouldn't be received

Don't know how I could face
Face another day without you in my life
It's not worth living without you by my side
Don't know how I could stand
On broken dreams on a promise made of sand
There's none like you, in you I can depend

All my life I've waited for Someone to open up this door
I was blind but now I see
That you're the only one for me

(Ohh) Don't know how I could face (Yes)
Face another day without you in my life
It's not worth living without you by my side
Don't know how I could stand
On broken dreams on a promise made of sand
There's none like you
In you I can depend

(Ohh) Don't know how I could face

Face another day without you in my life
It's not worth living without you by my side
(Ohh) Don't know how I could stand
On broken dreams on a promise made of sand
There's none like you
In you I can depend

Don't know how I could face
Face another day without you in my life
It's not worth living (No-no babe) without you by my side (Oh-Oh)
Don't know how I could stand
On broken dreams on a promise made of sand
There's none like you
In you I can depend
You make me whole
