

Medicate

Jonathan Davis

Your light shines so black
I can see my flaws plain as day
I deal with things inside
That would make anyone else scream with pain
Come on, run away with me
For now, 'cause it don't last
Come on, run away with me
Let's run from our past

Lies come to pass
Veils of black surround me
Nothing ever lasts
I medicate everyday, to make it go away
I try too hard
Try to make my life count in some way
I medicate everyday
I medicate it away
(I medicate it away)

I'm staring at a face that I
Can't even recognize
Been living in him so long
It took that long to realize

Lies come to pass
Veils of black surround me
Nothing ever lasts
I medicate everyday, to make it go away
I try too hard
Try to make my life count in some way
I medicate everyday
I medicate it away

I like this little pill that numbs the pain
I like this little pill that runs through my veins
I like this little pill that numbs the pain
I like this little pill running through my veins
I like this little pill that numbs the pain
Oh, this little pill that runs through my veins
Oh, this little pill, this little pill, this little pill
That numbs the pain

Lies come to pass
Veils of black surround me
Nothing ever lasts
I medicate everyday, to make it go away
I try too hard
Try to make my life count in some way
I medicate everyday
I medicate it away
I medicate it away
I medicate it away
I medicate it away
I medicate it away
