

Everything

Jonathan Edwards

Did you ever say goodbye to a dream so long and I love you
It means everything
Did you ever try to wing what it means to say so long
To your everything, hum, hum, hum, hum
Did you ever see sunlight in the rain and the rainbow means eve rything
And if you were ever running in the rain where she told me
She loves everything, everything, everything

Everything we did together, Lord in the rain those days
Well, those days I believe they are gone forever
Remember everything you can and then begin again

Did you ever try foolin' in the rain and the water shines every thing
And if you were ever crying in rain you know that the tears ble nd with Everything, everything, everything

Everything we did together, Lord in the rain those days
Well, those days I believe they are gone forever
Remember everything you can and then begin again:

Remember everything you can and then begin again
