

Stop and Start It All Again

Jonathan Edwards

The sun comes up in the sun goes down
The world keeps turning all around
The day begins where the night has been
Stop and start it all again

A flower grows up to the sun
And it dies were a new one has begun
Feel the warmth beginning to end
Stop and start it all again

River runs down to the sea
The sea blows up to heaven
Then it rains to fill the rivers
Lord must live in heaven

You roll along and you find a friend
You tell him all the places that you've been
You roll along and you find a friend
Stop and start it all again

A man must live to die to live
A baby's born beauty gives
A woman loves and it all begins
Stop and start it all again

River runs down to the sea
This sea blows up to heaven
Then it rains to fill the rivers
Lord must live in heaven

You roll along and you find a friend
You tell him all the places that you've been
You roll along and you find a friend
Stop and start it all again
