

Pulling Away

Jonathan Roy

So high on top with all the constellations
My mind is breaking down the set foundations
Don't feel like having fucking conversations
Leave me to my sensations
Let go of all the over calculating
No more inner child hibernating
Give in to all the anxious hesitating
Leave me to my leave me

I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just terrified of what I'd be without you
Not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just slowing down my breathing just to feel you

My hearts open wide
Feeling love come inside
Pushing darkness aside
I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away

In dreams I see a world of jubilation
Where love's the thread that's binding all nations
Why can't it be one big hallucination
Leave me to my leave me

I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just terrified of what I'd be without you
I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just slowing down my breathing just to feel you

My hearts open wide
Feeling love come inside
Pushing darkness aside
I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
My hearts open wide
Feeling love come inside
Pushing darkness aside
I'm just slowing down my breathing just to feel you

I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just terrified of who I'd be without you
I'm not pulling away from you
Not pulling away
I'm just slowing down my breathing just to feel you
