

INTRO:FLYING

Jonathan Thulin

It's been a few years since I put an album out
Had a lot to say but I just couldn't get it out
I became the villain so I put a tent up in the woods Yeah, I did drugs and I drank just like you said I would Guess I'm just predictable, a sinner with nowhere to call home
oh
But I found what I was lacking between the trips and loneliness
I found my happy cause now I'm happy

And the best part is I found purpose without feeling worthless
Yeah, I've been set free but not in the way religion taught me
I'm a man with a mission
I don't care if you listen
Damn I gotta thank you cause you showed me what I was missing
Now I'm getting way too loud
And you're telling me sit down
But I sat down enough all the times you tied me to the ground
Now I'm flying, I'm flying
You said that I wouldn't but damn it, I'm flying (I said I would) d)...
