

Maybe If

Jonathan Thulin

He wiped away his pain with just one bottle
His life had been a mess, and so he pondered
"Maybe if, maybe if I'm not around
My life would mean something"
She holds the razor up against her dry skin
"Mommy hates me, Daddy loves me, tell me why
So maybe if, maybe if I cut a little deeper
I'd understand"

They're searching for a cure
Maybe if we'd open up the door
Yeah yeah, maybe if, maybe if we'd look a little deeper
We'd give them a reason
To live, yeah
To live
Oh oh, ooh

He promised her to take care of their baby
She made a few mistakes, but still he left her
And so, maybe if, maybe if he'd stayed a little longer
They'd be alive today, yeah

They're searching for a cure
Maybe if we'd open up the door
Yeah yeah, maybe if, maybe if we'd look a little deeper
We'd give them a reason
To live, yeah
To live

Everybody's searching for that something
That makes them feel complete inside
So, maybe if, maybe if we'd tell them 'bout a Savior
They'd understand

They're searching for a cure
Maybe if we'd open up the door
Yeah yeah, maybe if, maybe if we'd look a little deeper
They'd know their reason
To live, yeah
To live
