

So Alive

Jonathan Wilson

I feel
Our reunion
Was something calling
From the unreal
You look
So familiar
It's nothing particular
But the entire feel

That is why
I'm so alive right now
You just keep on rolling
Keep on blowing my mind

We're not far
From the destination
But I'd rather keep traveling
Through the night

That is why
I'm so alive right now
You just keep on rolling
Keep on blowing my mind
What is why
I'm so alive right now
You just keep on rolling
Keep on blowing my mind

It's hard to say, in fact it's never
Come to me as inspiration
But I feel the presence lifted
Brought to me, a precious gift
And though it might seem elementary
I can feel the light upon me
Throwing shadows in the open
Separating light from darkness
There are angels still among us
Turn around, they're right behind
Breath that passes one to one
So the flame goes

That is why
I'm so alive right now
You just keep on rolling
Keep on blowing my mind
What is why
I'm so alive right now
You just keep on rolling
Keep on blowing my mind
