

Exhausted

Jonny Craig

And they say that life makes you
Life makes you stronger
They say you get older
Things fall in order
Tell me why am I feeling
I'm feeling smaller
As I get older
It gets so much harder

I'm so exhausted
Fighting with my demons, feeling onset
Everytime I step outside
I gotta be so cautious
Yeah
I'm feeling low, feeling nauseous
You just get to sit around and judge me, think you're polished
Yeah
Running your mouth, you think you're something
Bitch, in reality you're nothing
You're nothing now
Keep me away from all your nonsense
Don't call me up I'm so exhausted
Exhausted

Leave me alone
I am feeling a new kind of low

Only a miracle could get me back on the road
Those two tryin' to get me up, they've given up
And so should you
Don't wanna be a burden on you
Baby, I'm too exhausted to move

Tell me why am I feeling
I'm feeling smaller
As I get older
It gets so much harder

I'm so exhausted
Fighting with my demons, feeling onset
Everytime I step outside
I gotta be so cautious
Yeah
I'm feeling low, feeling nauseous
You just get to sit around and judge me, think you're polished
Yeah
Running your mouth, you think you're something
Bitch, in reality you're nothing
You're nothing now
Keep me away from all your nonsense
Don't call me up I'm so exhausted
Exhausted

Exhausted
Something
Bitch, in reality you're nothing now

Running your mouth, you think you're something
Bitch, in reality you're nothing
