

Pray

Jonny Craig

Couldn't give you more of myself like now back then
It was my fault, baby
I was going a little crazy
Chasing off my demons and here we go again
Always looking at my dark side
When I've been working on the other one

Never get too close
Something's waiting for you on the other side of the hole
Dragging me deep down
Have you ever been alone
Or is there someone out there with a prayer on their tongue and their hand o n a gun

Would you pray for the bittersweet release
Like I've got nothing left to lose
No, you don't gotta pray for me, baby, pray for me, baby

It's a different story I'll take you by the hand
A blank page before us
We can write our chorus
If one thing is certain I never gave in
I got out of there
I don't need your prayer

Never get too close
Something's waiting for you on the other side of the hole
Dragging me deep down
Have you ever been alone?
Or is there someone out there with a prayer on their tongue and a hand on a gun

Would you pray for the bittersweet release
Like I've got nothing left to lose
No, you don't gotta pray for me, baby (pray for me, baby)

Yeah, I know everything I've said, everything that I've done
You can keep your prayers
I'm still standing on my own two feet right now
And I know it's enough
No you, no you, no you

No, you don't gotta pray for me, baby
No, no, you don't gotta pray
Like I've got nothing left to lose
Like I've got nothing left to lose
Like I've got nothing left to lose

Would you pray
For the bittersweet release
Like I've got nothing left to lose
No, you don't gotta pray for me, baby (pray for me, baby)

Yeah, I know everything I've said, everything that I've done
You can keep your prayers
I'm still standing on my own two feet right now
And I know it's enough

No you, no you, no you don't gotta pray
You don't gotta pray
Pray for me, baby

No you, no you, no you gotta pray
