

All Because Of You

Jonny Diaz

Finally got some money saved
Carved out a quiet space
Where I knew everything
Was safe and sound
I took pride in living free
Had time to chase my dreams
But it looks like everything
Is changing now

All because of you
All because of you
You're the one to blame
For everything that's changed
Yeah it's all because of you

Finally got a bit comfortable
Living in my own little world
My plans for the future were
All laid out
All the ways that I had control
All the places I thought I'd go
Everything that I knew before
Is upside down

All because of you
All because of you
You're the one to blame
For everything that's changed
Yeah, it's all because of you

Well the truth is, too much time can just get boring
And I don't really need a sporty car
And I used to say I'd like to see the world
But now my world is right here sleeping in my arms

You see your mom and me
Thought we had everything
Couldn't see the missing piece
Til you came to us
You changed the song I sing
You changed the prayers I bring
But I wouldn't trade a thing
For how it was

All because of you
All because of you
You are showing us
A whole new kind of love
I finally understand
The way The Father feels for us
I thank God you came
I'll never be the same
And it's all because of you
