

No Time Soon

Jordan Davis

Well, the forecast says some storm clouds are on their way to town

Well into the morning, it'll be coming down

I got one thing on my mind, and you might feel the same

Let's lock ourselves inside this house and listen to it rain

Tonight, I'm like a freight train, I'm rolling home to you

My heart's like a matchbook and your kiss is a fuse

The world's gonna have to kick that door in if it wants in this room

So lay down, I'm 'bout to love you and I ain't stopping no time soon

We'll find our way around the dark, our hands know what to do

The only light we'll ever need is the lightning flashing through

The windowpane and let the thunder shake everything under this roof

'Cause you and me and a night like this is too long overdue

Tonight, I'm like a freight train, I'm rolling home to you

My heart's like a matchbook and your kiss is a fuse

The world's gonna have to kick that door in if it wants in this room

So lay down, I'm 'bout to love you and I ain't stopping no time soon

No time soon

And you can tell that storm to take its sweet time

I'll be taking mine

Tonight, I'm like a freight train, girl, I'm rolling home to you

My heart's like a matchbook and your kiss is a fuse (Your kiss is a fuse)

The world's gonna have to kick that door in if it wants in this room

So lay down, I'm 'bout to love you and I ain't stopping no time soon

No time soon

Ain't stopping no time soon

Lay down, lay down, I'm 'bout to love you

And I ain't stopping no time soon
