

Same Faces

Jordan Mackampa

Oh, how I loved you so
More than you'll ever know
Oh, how I loved you so
But our love just didn't grow
Oh, how I loved you so
More than you ever knew
Oh, how I loved you so
But then you broke my heart in two

So now I'm running through these different places
Running past the same old faces
I miss your presence and your essence
The freckles on your cheek
Look what you've done to me

Oh, how I loved your soul
It was your charm, your hair, your hips
Oh, how I loved your soul
And the way you'd bite your lips
Oh, how I loved your soul
More than you ever knew
Oh, how I loved you so
Then you broke my heart in two

So now I'm running through these different places
Running past the same old faces
I miss your presence and your essence
The freckles on your cheek
Look what you've done to me

Oh, how I loved you so
More than you ever knew
Oh, how I loved you so
But then you broke my heart in two

So now I'm running through these different places
Running past the same old faces
I miss your presence and your essence
The freckles on your cheek
Look what you've done to me

I keep on running to the same old places
I keep on running past the same old faces