

Long Way Home

Jordan Pruitt

You got me locked in your gaze, I can't escape those green eyes
When you hold me like the old days, feels just like the last ti me

No, it's not right, but I can't seem to stop
Put up a fight, I guess I didn't try hard enough

Damn, it's a long way home from here
You got me so low, all I wanna do is disappear
I thought that I could keep my heart from Feeling anything that you could see
But I was wrong again, like I was back then
When you were who I wanted you to be, yeah

You had me heart over head, now all this is is lonely
Waking up to you in your bed, the magic's gone in the morning
Keep trying to tell you goodbye, can't find the way to say it
Don't know the reason why I keep coming back here, baby

'Cause damn, it's a long way home from here
You got me so low, all I wanna do is disappear
I thought that I could keep my heart from
Feeling anything that you could see
But I was wrong again, like I was back then
When you were who I wanted you to be

Tell me, what's it gonna take for me to walk away and not look back?
All our love's gone dark, it's in the past, without a spark, it all went black

Damn, it's a long way home from here
But I'm on the road and you're in my rearview mirror
I thought that I could keep my heart from
Feeling anything that you could see
But I was wrong again, like I was back then
When you...
I won't make the same mistake again, like I did back then
When you were who I wanted you to be, yeah

Yeah, never who I wanted you to be
Oh, oh
