I can do without, I can do without you
I don't need your lie, I don't need your lies too
I'm tryna find my way, tryna find my way through
But I can do without, I can do without you

I can do without, I can do without you
I knew the animals, you knew the animals too
You found a fusion now, but who does it belong to?
I can do without, I can do without you
