

Lightning

Jordan Rakei

When it's over
When it's over
When it's over
When it's over
When it's over

Let my bones be your bed
Where you can rest your head tonight
Lean into my open arms
Save the trouble for the dawn
Let my bones be your bed
'Cause this is right now
Honey, we got right now
And there might be trouble later
But for now it's ever after
Never said I would
Never said I could
'Cause forever's such a long time

Let my bones be your bed
Somewhere you can rest your head
'Cause I don't wanna be so
Guarded and so careful, no
Never said I would
Never said I could
'Cause forever's such a long time

This love is like lightning
Would it be bright enough
Its thunder was stolen
This love is like lightning
Would it be bright enough
Its thunder was stolen

Let my bones be your bed
Where you can rest your head tonight
I'll be the needle in your wanting arms
And you can strike me like lightning
Let my bones be your bed
'Cause this is right now
Honey, we got right now
And there might be trouble later
But for now it's ever after
Never said I would
Never said I could
'Cause forever's such a long time

This love is like lightning
Would it be bright enough
Its thunder was stolen

Flashes of colour
Wish they'd last
A long time

It was exciting but it was so frightening at the same time
Tried to grab it with both hands
