

Battles

Jordan Smith

I can stand in the fire
I can sleep in the storm
I can walk through the valley
I am never alone
I can climb any mountain
I will rise if I fall
I can face any battle
'Cause you were there through it all

Your love is my armor
I fear nothing at all
Your heart is my fortress
From any arrow of this world
Whatever may come against me
It won't even leave a mark
'Cause You are my shield from
The bullets in the dark
Oh, You are my shield from
Any bullets in the dark

There's a hope for tomorrow
There's a song in my heart
There's a joy after sorrow
'Cause wherever you are
I can climb any mountain
I will rise if I fall
I can face any battle
'Cause you were there through it all

Your love is my armor
I fear nothing at all
Your heart is my fortress
From any arrow of this world
Whatever may come against me
It won't even leave a mark
'Cause You are my shield from
The bullets in the dark
Oh, You are my shield from
The bullets in the dark

God of every battle
God of every storm
What was met with struggle
Will be my song
So bring on the blessing
Like a mighty flood
What was meant for evil
Will be my good, oh-whoa

So bring on the blessing
Like a mighty flood
Will be my good

Your love is my armor

From any arrow of this world

So bring on the blessing
Like a mighty flood
You are making all things
Work for my good
