

Don't know what to do
God, it's too much for me
Heaven knows I've tried
Oh, I've tried everything
I've tried and tried
A thousand times
But I can't do this by myself, by myself

God, I need your help
I need your help again
In this moment I'm as desperate as I've ever been
There is no one else
No one else will do
You're my Savior and that's why I'm cryin' out to you
God, I need your help
God, I need your help

In this waiting room
Where minutes feel like days
Father I refuse
To believe that you won't make a way
You promised me that you would be my strength
When I've got nothing left, and I've got nothing left

God, I need your help
I need your help again
In this moment I'm as desperate as I've ever been
There is no one else
No one else will do
You're my Savior and that's why I'm cryin' out to you
God, I need your help
God, I need your help
God, I need your help

Like a river needs an ocean to have somewhere to run
Like the dawn of every morning needs the risin' sun
Like a child needs a father to help them not give up
Help me not give up

God, I need your help
I need your help again
In this moment I'm as desperate as I've ever been
There is no one else
No one else will do
You're my Savior and that's why I'm cryin' out to you
God, I need your help
God, I need your help
God, I need your help
God, I need your help
