

No Matter What

Jordan St. Cyr

When I think my faith isn't big enough
To make this mountain move
When my strength's finally given up
I've done all I can do

It's a too familiar story
But you've always been there for me
Even now I trust you'll get me through

When I'm kicking and screaming
When I struggle believing
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
When my eyes cannot see it
And my heart doesn't feel it
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
No matter what

God you know my humanity is anything but whole
Still you say that you want me and you won't let me go

Without a doubt over and over
You put my burdens on your shoulders
It's never been about what I can do
It's always you

When I'm kicking and screaming
When I struggle believing
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
When my eyes cannot see it
And my heart doesn't feel it
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
No matter what

No matter if I have the faith
No matter if I see a way
You're with me right now and always
No matter if I have the strength
No matter the choices I've made
You fight for me now and always, always
No matter what

When I'm kicking and screaming
When I struggle believing
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
When my eyes cannot see it
And my heart doesn't feel it
God, You are always faithful
No matter what
No matter what
No matter what
No matter what
God, You are always faithful

No matter what
