

What Were You Thinking

Jordana

What about your mom?
How about your cats?
And everyone who loves you, think about that

Why do you think you feel this way?
Ever stop and ask that question?
Revisiting your trauma, everything more to mention

You think it's cause of curiosity
Or maybe just rethinking
Under days of no discussion
Think of how you're sinking

Hello, this is me
I think I've burdened you enough
No bother even asking, who know this is yourself

In times of thinking, you can change
No telling (no telling)
Give it up, give it up, give it up
